

Caught fishing

How many of you remember the days when Bing Crosby, John Wayne, Bob Hope and their 1950s ilk trolled our waters for salmon every summer?

Well, they're long gone, and the salmon have dwindled, too. But apparently stars are still finding them.

Patrick Duffy (Dallas) was recently seen testing his angling skills at The Clubhouse, a luxurious five-star fishing lodge on Langara Island in the Queen Charlottes.

He caught several chinooks in the 25-pound range and one 35-pounder.

Peter Coyote and model Kim Alexis have also reeled in salmon at the remote getaway.
